

Green Meetings/Events

Guidelines

The IDM is committed to the sustainable, environmentally friendly and socially responsible organisation of events, which we call "Green Meetings/Events".

When choosing a venue, attention is paid to ensuring good public transport connections. The IDM itself is also easy to reach by public transport in Vienna. There are also sufficient bicycle parking spaces for guests. The seminar room of the IDM has barrier-free access. We understand the principles of inclusion and diversity as prerequisites for our work.

At our events, preference is given to vegetarian food with regional and seasonal organic products, and only reusable tableware is used and tap water is provided in jugs. By doing without name tags and give-aways as far as possible, materials and resources are conserved. Event programmes are not printed out but are accessible online. The IDM strives to avoid waste and care is taken to ensure that any waste is disposed of properly.

Our guests are informed about our commitment to sustainable events and how they themselves can contribute to more sustainability.

At events in the region, the IDM also advises the partner organisations to follow the guidelines for more sustainability, environmental protection, regional value creation and social compatibility.
